WITH EARTHSHARE NC YOU INVEST IN:

BASIC RESOURCES

Clean water and air aren't guarantees. Recently, coal ash and other industrial pollutants have raised concerns about the safety of NC's water and air. Every day, EarthShare NC nonprofits are monitoring our water and air, reporting problems, and promoting practices that keep our drinking water clean and our air safe to breathe. This reduces the risk of asthma, cancer, and other health problems.

NC'S ECONOMY & UNIQUE PLACES

You know NC is special, whether you call the mountains home, depend on the rich farming soil of the Piedmont, work in one of our distinctive cities, or enjoy our many beaches and waterways. Tourists and businesses know it too, and are drawn to NC's beauty and quality of life. We can keep our economy strong by protecting our unique lands and waters, advancing renewable energy, and preserving all the natural resources that make NC a great place to visit and work.

WILDLIFE

We live in a shared home, connected with plants and animals: the trees that are home to your favorite birds, the honeybees vital for growing your food, and all the plants and animals that play a part in food chains, water cycles, and air quality. Help us restore habitats, protect rare and endangered wildlife, and care for injured animals. They depend on us, and we depend on them.

NATURE & QUALITY OF LIFE

Nature helps us relax, exercise, and spend time together. Chances are that you and your loved ones are already benefitting from the great work of EarthShare NC nonprofits: clean beaches, walking paths, camping spots, kids' summer camps, outdoor festivals, youth education, bikeways, and hiking trails. With your help, we will keep connecting you with what you love.

It takes many drops to make an ocean.

Your gift is pooled with gifts from people across the state, collectively making a big impact for conservation work in NC and beyond. Protecting our water, air, land, and wildlife also protects much more—like our health, economy, and quality of life.
